Community Foodies
local people supporting local communities to make healthy food choices

Community Foodies will be at the 2011 Clare Show. Community Foodies are local people supporting local communities to make healthy food choices. Community Foodies are volunteers trained in basic nutrition and are in your neighbourhood. What do we do? We share our knowledge, skills and experience in nutrition, presentation of food, how to eat well on a budget, reading food labels and taking the stress out of food shopping.

Clare Valley Community Foodies are supported by community health workers at Yorke and Lower North Health Service. Come and see us while you are at the show.
